

2-24-1920

The Chester News February 24, 1920

W. W. Pegram

Stewart L. Cassels

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.winthrop.edu/chesternews1920>

 Part of the Journalism Studies Commons, and the Social History Commons

Recommended Citation

Pegram, W. W. and Cassels, Stewart L., "The Chester News February 24, 1920" (1920). Chester News 1920. 13.
<https://digitalcommons.winthrop.edu/chesternews1920/13>

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the The Chester News at Digital Commons @ Winthrop University. It has been accepted for inclusion in Chester News 1920 by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Winthrop University. For more information, please contact bramed@winthrop.edu.

ULIUS SITGRAVES

IN 'SERIOUS SHAPE

Young Laurens Man Critically Ill, in Hospital Suffering From Gun Shot Wound.

Laurens, Feb. 22.—Julius Stives, a well known young man in the business and social life of the city is in a serious condition at the local hospital from a pistol wound in the region of the heart. It was stated this morning that his chances for recovery are regarded as somewhat doubtful. Shortly before noon today he regained consciousness and is said to have made a statement to the effect that the wound was self-

It is said that at a late hour last night, after visiting one of the filling stations, he drove away in his car. He was found early this morning lying on the ground, near Madden station, about four miles from Warrington. He was taken to a nearby hospital, undressed and put into bed. When it was found that he was shot. A physician was called from town and the young man brought to the hospital.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Graves and a son-in-law of Sheriff [illegible]. He is about 27 years of age and is cashier of the Lucas bank at [illegible] cotton mills.

ROAD CONFERENCE WILL BE HELD MARCH 3-4

Columbia, Feb. 21.—The Road Institute which was to have been held under the auspices of the University, the Citadel, Clemson College and the State Highway Commission February 10th, and which was to be postponed on account of influenza situation and for other purposes, will be held March 3rd and 4th at the University of South Carolina. All road officials in the State and others interested in road construction and maintenance are requested to be present during these sessions. The program includes a list of speakers prominent in road building in other States, as well as speakers from many South Carolina counties. The discussion, which will be held in by county engineers, county commissioners, supervisors and are planned to cover all of road building and maintenance.

A Leap Year Proposal.

Dear and most respective sir and you this your love to stir up I've chosen first of all,
which to make a Leap Year call,
given you the greatest chance use for you I will enhance heart and hand I ask not in rest
you will grant my fond request
send me back without delay answer immediately "yes" or
"ay."

If your hand doesn't incline

You must Leap Year Law
 down to me five dollars pay.
 Yes kind sir, a handsome dress
 no more and take no less.
 You must have man or money
 to send me your prompt reply.
 I be yours until I die!
 You think I am dandy,
 I am a five-pound box of candy.
 Of the writer's name you guess
 this back to my address.
 For me there is no hope,
 I am back five yards of rope
 All sorts of love and kisses
 I am who craves to be your Missus."

Woman's Will.

of the best known women in n's newspaper world, returning to Birmingham by train, and trying to make shorthand notes
at the time, was hopelessly interrupted by a man on the opposite seat, who began shouting his political views to an acquaintance in the front corner says a writer in the Evening News.

It must be used a phrase containing the word "damn," and turned to size to the lady for using such

"I mention it," she replied, "I have been mentally the word for the last hour."

The newspapers of the other girls rustled through the paper of their owners.—Minneapolis Journal.

A woman's idea of economy is to cents' worth of anything on separate occasions instead of buying in a dime all at one time.—Daily News.

Women worked as hard to climb ladder of fame as women do to the social ladder there'd be failures in business life.

Sale.—One 1917 Ford Tourer in fine condition. Taken in its bargain.

Z. V. Davidson. At

W. W. PEGRAM
STEWART L. CASSELS

Subscription Rates in Advance

One Year	$2.00
Six Months	1.00
Three Months	.60

Advertising Rates Made Known on Application.

Entered at the Postoffice at Chester S. C., as second-class matter.

Very few persons agree on what constitutes the worth while life, and no amount of reasoning or persuasion can ever change certain of their convictions. The very things that mean so much to one person would be unendurable to another, not so much because of the nature of those things perhaps as because of the personal viewpoint. We are all cast in very much the same mould in a general way but we are, and for this we have much to be thankful, vastly different temperamentally. If

The sacrifices we make are the corner stones upon which we build, although at the time we may not know it. The afterglow of the years to come however, illumines many dark places in our lives the reason for which we have never quite understood. No matter how hard the conditions may be nor how far removed we may suppose ourselves to be from the heart of life, its pulse-beats, nevertheless take in far more than we anticipate and after a while we learn that, viewed from all the miracles to which we aspire/

Wanted—A Family to run a share crop, fine land and stock and fertilizer furnished. Sam Z. McDowell,
Paden Bridge Road
Zt.

BREAD PRICE FIXED

the head, chest and nostrils, and stops the sore throat. Take a teaspoonful. If

THE ONE GAIN

3 DRG

Also PASTES and LIQ
Tan and White
THE F. F. DALLEY CORPORATION LTD.

BUFFALO, N. Y.

Real boys prefer this good Washwear

Tom Sawyer Washwear washes well and wears long. You'll notice the advantages as soon as you see it. The cloth is stronger and more durable. Colors are rich, even and fast. Boys like the attractive patterns. Every garment is roomy and reinforced where strains come. Yokes are double. Waistbands are of heavy material; buttonholes don't tear out. Even the good looking buttons are extra strong and lock on to stay. Neckbands in collars "set" properly, sleeves hang the way sleeves should, cuffs fit the wrist.

Tom SAWYER

The S. M. JONES CO.

LOCAL and PERSONAL

Mr. R. H. Gladden, who is attending Wofford fitting school at Spartanburg, spent the week-end in Richburg, with his father, Mr. W. B. Gladden.

Gentlemen—The New Spring Orchestra are here. It matters not how your foot is shaped, we can fit you. The S. M. Jones Co.

Little Miss Alice Louise Conner, of Gibson, N. C., is spending a few days with her aunt, Miss Lillian Hough.

Young Men—Stetson, Knox and Scholze Spring hats are here in all the new shades. The S. M. Jones Co.

Mrs. Bertha G. Honnelt, who has been visiting her brother, Mr. W. A. Graham left this morning for Seneca, S. C., where she will visit relatives before returning to her home in Birmingham, Ala.

Young Men—Ask for the Knox caps they are the best. The S. M. Jones Co.

The friends of Mr. J. L. Sanders will be sorry to learn that he is ill with pneumonia at the U. S. P. H. S. hospital, at Greenville. Mr. Sanders was called to his bedside Friday. Miss Blanch and Mr. Clifton Sanders are also with their father.

Mr. Elmore Barrett, of Nashville, Tenn., has accepted a position with the Chester Telephone Company. Mr. Barrett came to be with his brother, Mr. T. W. Barrett, who has been with the Chester Telephone Company for some time.

We Have Bought Mr. L. M. Woolen's stall feed beef cattle. Can furnish you the best beef to be found. Elliott's Market.

17 You Want the best meat in town, we have it, Elliott's Market. Phone 325.

Dr. S. B. Koser is a patient at the Pryor Hospital with influenza.

Mr. Amos Hough, of Mineral Springs, N. C., spent the week-end in Chester with his brother, Mr. J. E. Hough.

For First Class meats of all kinds, call Elliott's Market, Phone 335.

Mrs. L. E. Brown is spending a few days in Charlotte with relatives.

Gentlemen, Call in and see some of the new Spring Suits that are coming in from Kuppenheimer. The S. M. Jones Co.

Miss Margaret Doan, of Philadelphia, Pa., who has been superintendent of the hospital in Aiken, S. C., for a number of months, has decided to become Superintendent of the Pryor Hospital and will take charge of her duties about the first of March.

A. W. Wright, of Oden, in charge of the Southern Railway's pumping station at that place, fourteen miles north of Chester, was instantly killed by Southern passenger train No. 31, Saturday morning about nine o'clock. Engineer Stewart, of Columbia, who was at the controls, saw Mr. Wright standing between the rails, but did not anticipate that he would continue to stand in the path way of the oncoming train. Just why Mr. Wright did not get out of the way of the train will probably never be known. He was twenty-one years of age and is survived by one daughter, Mrs. A. L. Neely, of Oden, with whom he made his home.

Mr. W. A. Matthews, of Macon, Ga., spent the week-end in Chester with friends.

Chester acquaintances of Mr. J. Ed Reid, of Rock Hill, will regret to learn that he was badly injured last Saturday afternoon, when he fell from the left of the barn in the rear of his residence. The injury was confined to his hip.

Mrs. W. A. Orr and son of Gibson, N. C., have returned home after a pleasant visit to the former parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Ferguson.

Try Us for your meats and we assure you that you will be more than satisfied. Elliott's Market.

Mrs. Minnie Dudley, of Norfolk, Va., is the guest of Mrs. A. J. Fraser, at her home on West End.

Capt. William R. Timmons, formerly secretary of the Rock Hill Chamber of Commerce, and who has been associated director of the local federal reserve district, Richmond, Va., has resigned to become executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, of Greenville, S. C.

The annual meeting of the South Carolina Live Stock association and of the South Carolina Dairy association will be held jointly in Columbia March 3rd and 4th, according to the notice of the district. Mr. C. P. Cooper, Jr., president of the former, and J. P. LaMaster, extension service agent in dairying and ex-officio secretary of the latter of Clemson College. The program of the two day session is so arranged that the first day will be devoted to addresses and discussions of dairying.

Mr. J. Lowry Guy has been confined to his home for several days on account of having mumps. Mrs. Guy is indisposed with influenza.

Prettiest Line of Spring Dresses in Chester at Wylie's.

Spring Coats—Be sure and see the showing at Wylie's.

Mrs. Ethel Harrell has been indisposed several days with Llagrippe.

Doctors McCadden, Hennes, Malone and Rakestraw have received the plans and specifications for the new building to be erected by them on Garden street. Work on the construction of the building will begin as soon as the contract is let, which will probably be in the near future.

Miss Emmie Knox has accepted a position with the Chester Hardware Company.

From Proof Cabbage Plants—For immediate shipment, extra fine stock plants, Early Jersey, Chiffonade, Wakefield, Succession, Flat Dutch. By express 10.00, 2.00, 20.00, 35.00, 50.00, 75.00, 100.00, 150.00, 200.00, 300.00, 500.00, 1000.00, 2500.00. Send for price list Sweet Potato, Tomato and other plants. Parker, Farmers, Moultrie, Ga. or J. G. M. L.

Mr. Robert F. Jenkins, of Sumter, expects to install an acetylene welding plant in the rear of the Chester Drug Store as soon as he can get the building ready.

Kuppenheimer Clothes are 100 per cent for three months on satisfaction.

cent value; Kuppenheimer Clothes are 100 per cent stylish; Kuppenheimer Clothes are 100 per cent service. The S. M. Jones Co.

Thieves entered the home of Mr. R. S. McLeod, on the corner of Wylie and Walker street, Saturday night, about nine-thirty o'clock, stealing a suit of clothes valued at seventy dollars, and also about one hundred dollars worth of jewelry. At the time of the robbery there was no one at home, and the robbers took time to thoroughly ransack the entire house. The robbers entered by the rear of the house and it is evident that they were familiar with the premises.

For Sale—Range in good order T. M. Douglas.

Mrs. C. B. Gladden and two children are ill with influenza, at their home on Saluda Street.

Best in Town, this is what the ladies are saying about our line of Dress, Coats and Suits. Wylie's.

The following is a list of those who have been reported to the Secretary of the Local Board of Health, as having influenza, since our issue of last Friday: Mrs. Chas. Porter, A. C. Lynn, Mrs. Lowry Guy, Robert Simpson, Iry Wright, W. S. Banks, Miss Lillian Bly, Miss Barbry, Miss Tennant, Sam T. Weir, Mrs. E. R. Stroud and two children, Mrs. W. E. Walker, Sumter Smyer, W. G. Grant and Mrs. and Mrs. E. G. Harris.

The musical comedy, "The Love Doctor," which was scheduled to be played at the Chester Opera House on March 4th, has been canceled on account of the influenza situation.

Miss Grace Black, who has been detained at home on account of sickness, has returned to Chester to resume her duties as teacher in the school here.

Largest Stock of Gingham and Cotton goods, of every description in Chester. An usual price is low. Let us prove it. Wylie & Co.

It will be recalled that the week mentioned in The News some time ago that an effort was being made in Rock Hill to secure ten thousand dollars by public subscription to be used in constructing a highway from the Chester County line on the Saluda road, to Rock Hill, this subscription to be supplemented by a like amount from the federal government. The News understands that approximately four thousand of the amount has already been raised and the promoters expect to reach six thousand dollars by the first of March.

Ladies' Suits, latest creations, in styles and materials, at Wylie's.

The eighth annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States will be held this year at Atlantic City, Pa., April 27th to 29th. The Chester Chamber of Commerce is one of the affiliated organizations, members of the national body. Mr. A. M. Allen is the national councillor for Chester and Mr. R. B. Caldwell, delegate. Mr. S. M. Jones has been elected national councillor and Mr. J. A. G. White, substitute delegate.

The Merchants and Salesmen Conference will be held Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday of next week. Dr. Stanley L. Krebs will be here for three lectures on, "Sanatoriums" and store ethics. This will be one of the big events of the Mercantile Bureau, of the Chamber of Commerce, for this year. The lectures will be delivered at the Opera House beginning each night at 8 P. M.

Mr. Ralph Parlette, who was scheduled to speak here February 18th, as one of the members of the Chester League Course, but who was kept away by the influenza quarantine, has advised the committee that he will be here during the Redpath Chamber of Commerce lecture, the "University of Hard Luck" at that time.

Announcements have been received in Chester of the marriage of Miss Julia Taylor, to Mr. Cavett Spenn Beardslee, on February 12th, the ceremony taking place in Union, Pa. Beardslee is a daughter of Hon. J. H. Beardslee, of Port Mifflin, and for several months was a nurse at the Chester Sanatorium. Mr. Beardslee is a young business man of Moss Point, Ala., where the young couple will make their future home.

Automobiles and heavy trucks covered and repaired, backs and cushions recovered and repaired. In the trimming and upholstery line. The reputation of turning out the highest grade work in the city. Prices reasonable. We guarantee satisfaction. Give us your work. "Buddell's Garage," 117 Columbia street, city.

We are requested to state that Rev. J. E. Jager, Secretary of the Associated Charities, will be out of the city for the next few days.

Unless the churches are closed by the Board of Health, services will be held at St. Mark's Episcopal Church, on Sunday morning, February 29th. Rev. A. Burke Moran of Barnwell, S. C., will be the guest of honor. The public is cordially invited. There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion.

For Sale—"Ford Cars," new and rebuilt. We also carry Ford Roadsters, Touring and sport models. We do high grade painting and rebuilding on all makes. Payne's Auto Works, Charlotte's, 1500 E. 1st St., Marion, N. C. 811 Apr. 21.

Mr. C. Y. Young is Dead.

Another untimely death in Chester, occurred a few days ago was that of Mrs. C. Y. Young, wife of a local man, C. Y. Young, who occurred at the Pryor Hospital yesterday afternoon about five o'clock, after an illness of several days with influenza and complications.

Although Mrs. Young had been ill for several days her death came as a distinct shock to her family and many friends who mourn her loss. Mrs. Young was a devoted wife and mother and will be sorely missed by a large circle of friends.

She is survived by her husband and several children, the youngest being a baby, who is a few days old. The funeral services will be held at the same time this afternoon at four o'clock after which the interment will be made in Evergreen cemetery.

Death of Mrs. J. A. Nichols.

Mrs. J. A. Nichols died at her home on Garden Street Friday evening about five o'clock after a brief illness, which occurred at eleven o'clock by Dr. P. V. Kille, pastor of Bethel M. E. church, after which the body was taken to the funeral home of Mr. Nichols, where it remained until April 12th, 1905. Before marriage she was Miss Nellie Anderson, daughter of Mr. R. B. Anderson and the late J. H. Anderson. She was thirty-five years of age. At an early age she joined the Baptist church, and lived a Christian life. She was a devoted wife and a devoted mother. She was a kind and helpful neighbor, always willing to lend a helping hand. The many and beautiful floral offerings showed the high esteem of her neighbors and of her friends.

She is survived by her devoted husband and six children, four boys and two girls; by her mother, Mrs. Bertha Anderson and the following brothers and sisters: Mr. Clifton T. Anderson, of Monroe, N. C.; Mr. J. R. Anderson, of Great Falls, Me.; W. E. and Frank, of Chester; Mrs. H. W. Leach of Rockton and Mrs. L. H. Weir of Chester.

Death of Mrs. W. E. McDowell.

Friends in Chester were grieved to learn of the death of Mrs. W. E. McDowell, which occurred at Great Falls, N. C., on Tuesday evening, of a flu pneumonia. She was a native of Chester and laid to rest in Evergreen cemetery Sunday. Her family resided at the home of Mr. McDowell's mother, Mrs. Robert Porter, on Elizabeth Street.

Mrs. McDowell was a member of the Presbyterian church. She was a devoted wife and mother. She was a kind and helpful neighbor, always willing to lend a helping hand. The many and beautiful floral offerings showed the high esteem of her neighbors and of her friends.

We Have Bought Mr. L. M. Woolen's stall feed beef cattle. Can furnish you the best beef to be found. Elliott's Market.

Death of Robt. J. Smith.

Mr. Robert J. Smith, who has been in declining health for a number of years, passed away on last Saturday morning, at Black Mountain, N. C. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Smith, of this city and made Chester his home until his health compelled him to leave here. He was about thirty years of age and leaves a wife, who was Miss Marie Sheriff, and two children.

Mr. Smith was a member of the Presbyterian church. The funeral services were conducted yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Smith, on College Street, by the Rev. J. E. Pichey, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and his wife was laid to rest in Evergreen cemetery.

Mr. Smith had many friends in Chester who extend their heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved ones.

C. Beardsley and Children.

The Supreme Farm Engine

The famous "Z" Engine and the Bosch high tension, oscillating magneto combine to make the one SUPREME farm engine. Call on us and see the steel of the combination—FAIRBANKS MORSE "Z" WITH BOSCH MAGNETO. We are substantially assisted in delivering maximum engine service by a nearby Bosch Agency. State 15 H. P., $75.00—3 H. P., $45.00—6 H. P., $100.00—Call F. O. B. Factory. Chester Machine & Lumber Company

NEW ARRIVALS

At The E. E. Cloud Co.

Young Men's Suits

We are offering some very SPECIAL VALUES in the very latest models in young men's suits. We are just entering this game and in order to make a start we are making all suits very close, and can positively assure you that you can save at least $5.00 to $7.50 on every suit. Also a well-selected line of furnishings for men at very reasonable prices—silk and cotton shirts, men's and boys' caps, and the best line of hosiery to be found.

Boys' Suits

You will find here one of the best lines of boys' suits to be found in the city. We place special emphasis on boys' serge suits and can offer all-wool serge suits at $10.00, $12.50 and $15.00. Also full line of boys' shirts and blouses. Call and see them!

E. P. Reid's Low Cuts.

Four styles of this fine make of shoe just arrived, and we especially recommend this shoe to you at this time because we can give you your size and width. All widths— from A to D. Call and see them.

New and pretty things arriving every day. You are invited to call and see the new things.

The E. E. Cloud Comp's

AUTOMOBILES

Columbia Six, Metz Master Six, and Dixie Flyer Specifications.

COLUMBIA SIX	METZ MASTER SIX	DIXIE FLYER
Continental Red Seal Motor, Auto-Lite Starting and Lighting System, Carburetor, Ford & Beck Clutch, Duxton Transmission, Ford-O-Lite Starter, Battery, Speed Universal Joints, Timken Bearings, Axles, Throttle Mechanically Controlled Radiator Shutters, Non-Synchronous Springs	Metz Master Six Motor, Westinghouse Starting and Lighting System, Carburetor, Ford & Beck Clutch, Duxton Transmission, Willard Storage Battery, Ford-O-Lite Starter, Timken Bearings and Axles, Full Shafting, Stream Line Bodies, built black leather upholstery, on both touring and roadster. When it comes to power and speed the Dixie Flyer has it, ask any one who has not tried it to the test. Price F. O. B. Factory $1400.	Herchel-Spillman Motor, Dynastio Starting and Lighting, Camshaft Ignition, Stromberg Carburetor, Ford & Beck Clutch, Grant-Lee Transmission, Willard Storage Battery, Ford-O-Lite Starter, Full Shafting, Stream Line Bodies, built black leather upholstery, on both touring and roadster. When it comes to power and speed the Dixie Flyer has it, ask any one who has not tried it to the test. Price F. O. B. Factory $1400.

There is nothing so convincing as the naked truth about a car. These test specifications tell the story of above line of cars in positive way, terms. But they do not tell the whole story, that is the result of actually driving, co-ordination of, exceptionally high grade units. Every purchaser in country of above line of cars is a booster. Ask for literature and demonstration of cars. If interested, first class mechanics to give you the work.

M. C. FUDGE, Distributor

The Lessons of the Gray Days.

Life would be more of a mystery than it is but for the gray days. It is these latter occasions that often give us the key to many problems which we have found perplexing and insoluble of solution. We are told that in the tropics the occasional gray day that comes affords a wider view than when the sun's brilliancy dazles the vision, and new beauties and new wonders are discovered that have hitherto remained unnoticed. So, too, when into our lives the gray days come with their shadows and their gloom, when for a time the brightness is clouded and our minds and hearts find time to dwell upon the quiet spaces of eternity, we find for ourselves the answers to many questions that have puzzled us for a long time. It is not unnatural for the happy, care-free people who enjoy the brightness of life, to give no thought to its more serious side. How can he be expected to do so when he has had no intimate knowledge of its nature? He basks in the sunshine and revels in the play-time of existence, and save for the natural sympathy with all misfortune he gives little thought to things that do not make up his own happy life. But the gray days come into all lives sooner or later. There must be shadows to soften the glare, or else we would lose our sense of proportion; there must be hardships to make us understand, or else we would not unravel, like threads, the threads of life. It is only those who have experienced the same sort of troubles as we have, who can appreciate the sympathies who can know how to sympathize with each other. It is only those whose hearts have been clouded with sorrow who can appreciate the sorrows of others, and it is only such persons who can ever hope to understand life as it is. We know that the sun will shine forever and that clouds must gather and storms must beat about us, but for all that we are never quite ready to undergo the experience. Yet without it how could we fathom the mystery of it all? How could we acquire that deep, sweeping vision that makes us see more clearly and more fully just why we are placed in this world? It takes pain to make us understand and suffering to soften our hearts and sacrifice to purify our souls and the chastened mind, as we must all know, is the mood which helps us to best overcome the passions that make life miserable for us. We are all called upon to renounce not once, but many times, those things that we set the greatest store upon, and while the renunciation itself is hard to bear, because we are human nature's fight so hard against the sacrifice, yet in the end, after the battle with self is over and we are able to hold up our heads again and make the effort to begin anew, we find that the sacrifice is beneficial in more ways than one. We have learned our lesson, and learned it bravely, and with the mastery of one lesson to turn to the mastery of another, and yet another, for as long as life is what it is there will never be a lack of hard lessons to learn. The gray days are sometimes the saddest of life. They mark for many of us periods of unhappiness, of sacrifice or renunciation perhaps, but they mark at the same time the periods when we first glimpse the better, never vision that is so essential to the development of our lives. They will stand, if we let them, for the beginning of a better appreciation of what life means, a fuller understanding of its significance and a wider conception of its duties. And as the gray days continue to throw their brightness over the horizon, a new realization of life's true meaning comes to us. We learn, through bitter trial that we cannot order days as we would prefer to live, that that continued and uninterrupted happiness would serve to make us selfish even in our joy and indifferent to the sorrow of others. The gray days are not what we had thought it must share, a like experience before it can understand what others have been called upon to bear. The gray days are not what we had thought, hard though these lessons may be, and the who accept them in the right spirit goes far toward solving the better meaning of life. To understand one must suffer and suffering does not belong to the rich warm sunshine that glides with glory over happy hearts. Rather, does each consolation in the life of the gray days that come into all our lives in turn.

MANY IGNORANT MEN

Pershing Says America Must Educate Citizens.

Chattanooga, Feb. 19.—Gen. John J. Pershing, here for an inspection of Fort Oglethorpe, declared at a luncheon given in his honor today that he was amazed at the revelations of illiteracy shown by tests of men called in the selective, and emphasized the duty of Americans to support popular education and bring the benefits of good schools to every family. General Pershing said the record showed that fully 25 percent of the men drawn in the draft were illiterate, a fact he said, which should cause every American shame.

For Sale.—One of most desirable building lots in Chester at intersection York and Hampton Streets. Fronting 60 feet on York Street and 140 feet on Hampton Street. Price and terms reasonable. M. C. Fudge 27.

The Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company is Proving A FRIEND IN NEED

To those finding themselves forced to take real protection. You will SAVE MONEY by consulting JOSEPH LINDSAY District Agent Chester, S. C.

STOMACH TROUBLE

Mr. Marion Holcomb, of Nancy, Ky., says: "For quite a long while I suffered with stomach trouble. I would have pains and a heavy feeling after my meals, a most disagreeable taste in my mouth. If I ate anything with butter, oil or grease, I would spit it up. I began to have regular sick headache. I had used pills and tablets, but after a course of them I would be constituted. I just seemed to tear my stomach all up. I found they were no good at all for my trouble. I heard recommended very highly, so began to use it. It cured me. I keep it in the house all the time. It is the best liver medicine made. I do not have sick headache or stomach trouble any more." Black-Draught acts on the liver and helps it to do its important work of throwing out the poisonous poisons from the system. This medicine should be in every household for use in time of need. Get a package today. If you feel sluggish, take a dose tonight. You will feel fresh tomorrow. ONE CENT A DOSE.

THEODOR'S

BLACK-DRAUGHT

BEST WORK

Laundry placed with us is promptly done. We do not tear your garments. Give us a trial.

TOM LAM LAUNDRY

114 Wylie Street

REAL AUTOS

The Cole Eight The Vello Six The Dodge Don't buy a automobile until you have us demonstrate our line. The above mentioned cars are well known to the public as being among the best. Let us show you about them.

CITY MOTOR CO.

Valley St. Phone 302.

WE FIX 'EM

Don't throw your old shoes away. We fix 'em like new ones. Our service is the quickest to be had. Send your shoes by Parcel Post. We pay charges one way.

Blain's Shoe Works

AUTO TRANSFER

Two big first-class automobiles for hire. Night or day. Prompt and efficient service at reasonable prices. Day Phone 12. Night Phone 429.

JOHN WALKER

SERVICE

We now have four efficient and experienced barbers and can tender prompt service. We will appreciate your patronage and will give you real service. Give us a trial and be convinced.

J. M. HASTINGS BARBER SHOP

Dr. H. J. BIRD

Graduate Veterinary Surgeon. Office at W. F. Moore's Sales Stable. Office Phone 442; Residence Phone 19 at Mrs. Dr. Fryer's. Called answered night or day. 27.

Notice Drawing Grand Jurors.

In compliance with an act of the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina, approved the 7th day of February, A. D. 1902, we, the Jury Commissioners of Chester County, do hereby give notice that on Tuesday, March 9th, 1920, at 10 o'clock A. M. in the office of the Clerk of Court of Common Pleas and General Sessions at Chester, S. C., we will draw the following jurors, to wit: Twelve (12) Grand Jurors to serve during the year 1920, to-wit: A. C. FISCHER, Auditor. A. T. HENRY, Treasurer. J. E. CORNWELL, C. C. Pleas. Chester, S. C., Feb. 20, 1920. 37.

Notice of Drawing Petit Jury.

In compliance with an act of the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina, approved the 7th day of February, A. D. 1902, we, the Jury Commissioners of Chester County, do hereby give notice that on Tuesday, March 9th, 1920, at 10:30 o'clock A. M. in the office of the Clerk of Court of Common Pleas and General Sessions at Chester, S. C., we will draw the following jurors, to wit: Thirty-six (36) petit jurors to serve during the second week of the Spring Term of Circuit Court. A. C. FISCHER, Auditor. A. T. HENRY, Treasurer. J. E. CORNWELL, C. C. Pleas. Chester, S. C., Feb. 20, 1920. 37.

Notice of Drawing Petit Jury.

In compliance with an act of the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina, approved the 7th day of February, A. D. 1902, we, the Jury Commissioners of Chester County, do hereby give notice that on Tuesday, March 9th, 1920, at 11 o'clock A. M. in the office of the Clerk of Court of Common Pleas and General Sessions at Chester, S. C., we will draw the following jurors to wit: Thirty-six (36) petit jurors to serve during the second week of the Spring Term of Circuit Court. A. C. FISCHER, Auditor. A. T. HENRY, Treasurer. J. E. CORNWELL, C. C. Pleas. Chester, S. C., Feb. 20, 1920. 37.

Wanted.—Experienced Sewing Machine hands can find steady work at good pay at Charlotte Dock Clothing Co. Charlotte, N. C. 3-10-13 p.d.

Growing With The Times.

One of the hardest tasks that most of us have to perform is that of preventing ourselves from becoming narrow. This assertion will probably be resented by many persons who scorn the idea that they could by any possibility be narrow in their outlook upon life. But somewhere, deep down in our hearts, we all have a vague feeling that we are, after all, narrow and bound and fast in certain standards of living that do not measure up to the needs of the times in which we live. We must not, however, confuse our principles with our prejudices and force ourselves into the belief that when we yield to the latter we are simply standing firmly for the former. The trouble is that we permit ourselves to continue in the old roads when new ones that give a wider view are fast springing up about us. We try to take the vision of a day that has long since past and make it meet the conditions of a new day. We refuse to see anything good in the new and remain firmly entrenched in the old regardless of the fact that we are punishing ourselves perhaps more than any other class. We have grown accustomed to certain standards of living, and we proudly, even defiantly, proclaim that we shall not adopt new standards. Therefore, the new order of living that may develop. We must not forget, however, that a man may change his standards without in the least encroaching upon the sanctity of his principles.

It is only in this way that we can live up to the times in which we find ourselves. As pleasing, as satisfying as were the conditions of our earlier years, we cannot expect that such conditions will continue throughout life. Time brings about a gradual change, so gradual that we do not realize it at first. But slowly after the years have begun to leave their ineffable marks upon our lives, in the last few years the change has become more radical because the world has witnessed startling events the full significance of which we are only just beginning to understand. The light of these developments we cannot refuse to accept, the changes that have come into our lives and to make the best of them. That is why we cannot afford now, perhaps more than at any other period to permit ourselves to cling too fast to the standards of the old quiet, peaceful days. There is unrest and agitation everywhere, and the end is not yet. How can we think for a moment of sitting idly by and taking no part in the turbulent world?

How can we be content to allow ourselves to lose our hold on the outlasting things that develop from day to day and to let ourselves be carried along by the narrowness. We must neither deliberately limit our opportunities nor block our paths. We must be broad and open in our vision and regard ourselves not as unimportant, insignificant factors in the great world problems but as living, breathing, vital factors, in the growth and the progress of the world. We cannot do this by living narrow lives and burying ourselves out of sight in some pleasant nook where life will do us no harm for the time being and where we will be out of the way. Do we understand that by living such limited, selfish lives we are actually making ourselves and others shifting our own responsibilities?

The narrow is out of place at present, and stilted, formal, limited standards of action are absolutely without value. We must put ourselves to the test and, backed by the high ideals and sound principles which we have inherited, we must go throughout the years open our eyes wide to the new outlook, gathering from it all that is best and noblest and not fearing to meet its terrible demands. We cannot do this by the best of our ability. Unless we dare we shall not accomplish, and we do not know what we can do until we make the effort. The world view has broadened in the past few years as never before in a like period of time, and those of us who have not thrown down our old standards and events that have caused the change must try to learn by observation and by that knowledge which shifts its way to us through the experience of others something of the new viewpoint. We must make of it something that will help us through the years to come, and we must make us out of ourselves and make us look to the brother at our side for the help we need and not to the gods of the past. We need our friends, whose feelings toward us are founded upon something less noble than the standard we have set, perhaps, unconsciously, for our friendships. There are "fair-weather" friends whose loyalty is only as long as the wind is in their shins, but who by their storm clouds for a shelter of their own. Such friends have us far more than they help us, and it often takes some unexpected shifting of the winds of our own lives to make us understand every such friend. On the other hand, it is the period of adversity that brings into our lives the true friends, whose loyalty is not passed them by oblivious to their true nature. Adversity is the test of friendship, it is not, alone the time of adversity that brings out the true friend, and even death, if you have not that other kind of adversity that comes for the time being to

Will Float Loan.

Paris, Feb. 22.—It has been decided by the city council of Paris to float a municipal loan of $20,000,000 in 1920. The proceeds are to be used for the purchase of food-stuffs and other essentials in the Canadian market.

Wanted.—A Family to run a dairy cow, egg-laying and stock and furnish. Sam Z. McDowell, Eden Ridge Road.

Owners Praise It For Its Comfort

The delightful comfort with which five adult persons ride in the Cleveland Six touring car has appealed to buyers everywhere. The wide, soft-cushion seats, upholstered in genuine hand-buffed plaited leather, are cozy as cozy can be. And the low understung spring construction, a feature of the Cleveland Six chassis, subdues the road-shock long before it can reach the cushions.

Many unusual qualities such as these are fast winning friends for the Cleveland Six. Among the light weight sizes it stands out distinctly. At all the principal automobile shows this season it has attracted extraordinary crowds. Men of mechanical interests and men experienced in the use of motor cars have been generous in their expression of approval and admiration for the design and construction of the Cleveland Six chassis. The several beautiful styles of body, mounted on this chassis, have met with praise from men and women alike.

When you see or drive the Cleveland Six, you want it.

Touring Car (Five Passengers) $1285 Roadster (Three Passengers) $1195 Sedan (Five Passengers) $2195 Coupe (Four Passengers) $1295 (All prices F. O. B. Factory)

PAUL HARDIN, CHESTER, S. C.

CLEVELAND AUTOMOBILE COMPANY, CLEVELAND, OHIO

$1385

Influences That Count.

The influences that most deeply affect our lives are not always those that we would have chosen. We do not realize this until we have experienced it. It is a sad fact that we have not been able to surround ourselves with the influences we think we would prefer, because until we grow in years and ripen into maturity we are not able to make the wisest of choices. However that may be, it is true that we respond in a matter of fact sort of way to those influences that come most naturally into our lives, those particular powers that emanate from those in authority over us and who direct the faltering footsteps of early youth. This is an entirely proper, it is natural, and the pity of it is that we do not continue to respond to the good influences of our early years as we should. Sometimes death steps in and removes forever from our mortal eyes those whom we have followed in the past and by careful judgment and wise counsel we have learned to depend. But even so it is possible to permit their influence to continue with us as we are so inclined by the memory of those whom we have loved and lost often exerts a restraining power over us at times when we need such restraint the most.

Apart from the natural influences of the guardian of our childhood and the influences of those who are life we are fortunate if we are able to point with pride to the possession of friends whose influences upon us are wholly disinterested, faithful, true and tried, in not to be despised and his influence for good will ring throughout the years of life with the clear tones of silver.

Such friends have us far more than they help us, and it often takes some unexpected shifting of the winds of our own lives to make us understand every such friend. On the other hand, it is the period of adversity that brings into our lives the true friends, whose loyalty is not passed them by oblivious to their true nature. Adversity is the test of friendship, it is not, alone the time of adversity that brings out the true friend, and even death, if you have not that other kind of adversity that comes for the time being to make life but a mockery. It is in times of trouble that we cling to our friends and respond unconsciously to the warmth and light they bring to us, and it is to their happy influences upon us when we most need encouragement that we owe more than we may ever hope to repay.

In the lives of most persons there are cherished memories of some abiding soul that has left its impress upon them, some great heart that moved through their small and narrow lives with dignity and majesty, leaving behind it calmness and serenity where confusion and even agitation existed before. Such an influence is not easily forgotten even though it lasted in the fulness of its glory for but a short period. But the impression it made was ineradicable and the thought of its calm sweetness and soothing influences cannot be forgotten. It seemed to us that we did not need to exert ourselves at the time to respond to its power but all that was necessary for us to do was to remain passive and permit its healing balm to enter into our lives. The secret of it all lay perhaps in the fact that we opened our hearts and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made upon us and let our hearts remain open to the warmth and light of the powers for good that come into our lives? An open heart, a clear conscience and a willing spirit can turn the darkest life into a bright one and bring peace and understanding and let our souls be good-known to ourselves. Can we say as much of our recognition of good-influences that have tried to enter into our lives from time to time? Has not experience taught us that we must respond to such calls as are made